

HR and Health & Safety Solutions

Working in partnership with Peninsula Business Services to provide your business with access to market leading Employment Law and Health & Safety advice, systems and procedures.

At Santander Corporate & Commercial we recognise that you want to focus your time on developing your business and looking after customers' needs. We also understand that working your way through the complexities of employment law, Health & Safety and government legislation is a time consuming, but vital requirement, for all UK businesses.

That is why we have teamed up with Peninsula Business Services to provide our customers with access to one of the most comprehensive and professional Employment Law and Health & Safety support services in the UK.

About Peninsula

Established in 1983 Peninsula has grown to become the market leader in their field. Over 25,000 businesses have already integrated Peninsula to work as part of their HR and Health & Safety functions. Their specialist teams provide support and guidance on all aspects of employment law and Health & Safety at work issues. In recent years the list of services has increased to mirror those of an in-house HR or health and safety department.

How it works

Your experienced Santander Relationship Director will meet with you to ensure that you might benefit from the services that Peninsula offer and then arrange a swift introduction to one of their specialists who will guide you through their range of service options, contract terms and prices following a more in-depth discussion on your specific needs.

For more information on how Peninsula Business Services and Santander Corporate & Commercial can assist, please contact your local Relationship Director or visit:
